Attendance Comment

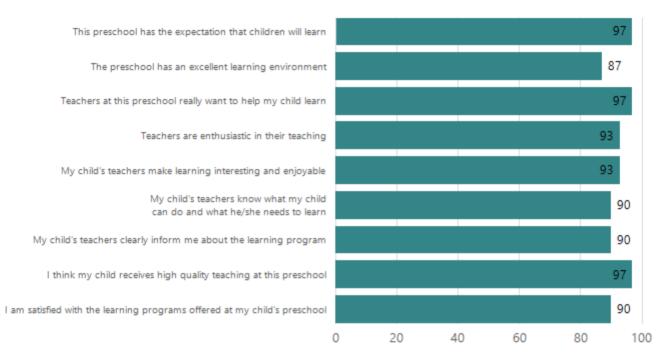

In South Australia, preschool attendance is not compulsory, but it is strongly encouraged. Preschool gives children the best opportunity to develop skills, which prepare them for school. These benefits include establishing positive routines and habits, friendships and connections as well as developing communication, problem-solving and creative skills. All children are entitled to access a preschool program over 4 terms the year before they start school.

In South Australia, all children and young people must be in school from 6 years to 16 years old. They must attend a government or nongovernment school full time. From age 16 to 17 however, young people must attend school or an approved learning program (such as an apprenticeship, traineeship, accredited course or university). Schools and parents must encourage and support students to come to school every day. Parents and caregivers must make sure their child is enrolled in a school, and attends school all day and everyday it is open, unless a child is sick or has an approved exemption. Teachers and leaders actively follow up when a student misses school, including recording all absences and non-attendance. All schools in South Australia have local attendance procedures governed under the Education and Children's Services Regulations 2020.

Governing council report

In my final year as Governing Council Chairperson, I've cherished the opportunity to collaborate closely with the school and our council members. Throughout this year, we've seen our membership flourish and our collective support for the school's pursuit of their Site Improvement goals deepen. The Governing Council takes great pride in acknowledging the dedication of Redwood Park's school leaders, staff, students, parents, and families for their unwavering support, which has enabled our school to uphold its commitment to providing quality learning experiences and enriching school events.

Our children have reaped the rewards of building strong relationships and innovative teaching methods, all while upholding the high standards of our curriculum. The sustained progress evident in our Site Improvement Plan, particularly in Maths, English, and student Wellbeing and Engagement, reflects our ongoing dedication to academic excellence and the social and emotional wellbeing of our students. As a school community, we remain committed to evolving alongside our community, ensuring that our partnership continues to foster the optimal learning environment for our students.

During these trying times, we've maintained a steadfast focus on enhancing the wellbeing of both staff and students. Collaborating closely with local organisations and community groups, we've extended our support to families, recognizing the importance of solidarity during difficult times.

My tenure as Governing Council chairperson has been immensely fulfilling, and I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the entire staff and school community for their remarkable dedication to making Redwood Park a safe and inspiring environment for learning.
