Governing Council report for 2023

What a fantastic year of Kindy we had in 2023! We saw a great array of activities for the children across both groups and many achievements reached.

This year the children expressed their creativity with our Kindy Art show where the children painted self-portraits & had them on display at the Arts Centre, a return from Caleb with the wonderful Musical Muscle program and the opportunity to create a Picture Plate.

Each graduating child also received a copy of the 2023 Yearbook.

There were excursions including a walk to the local veterinarian with a tour of the clinic and a walk to the Arts Centre to visit the art show. There was also a day trip to Urimbirra Wildlife Park.

The 2023 Kindy children showed great interest in learning about our Kurna land & people, bugs & other wildlife, the various foods grown at Kindy and at our homes & explored trying some of these with their friends.

Cultural awareness and learning about Kurna land and people has been a large focus in 2023. With Elders, Trent Hill & Corey (Southern Cultural Immersion) and Marra Dreaming visiting the children. Kurna words were incorporated into day-to-day learning. Our educators also engaged in Cultural Awareness training, worked on the PQIP focus goal and continued with the RAP. It was also decided the Kindy sign would be updated to reflect our connection to Country, and families voted on their favorite design. The new signage is now at the front of the Kindy building and looks great!

The mid-year intake presented an interesting challenge, but both children and educators handled the change very well and I am sure the process will run smoothly each year.

We wish the Kindy staff and 2024 Governing Council all the very best for the year to come.

Cally Beasley, Chairperson – 2023 Governing Council.

Attendance Comment

In South Australia, preschool attendance is not compulsory, but it is strongly encouraged. Preschool gives children the best opportunity to develop skills, which prepare them for school. These benefits include establishing positive routines and habits, friendships and connections as well as developing communication, problem-solving and creative skills. All children are entitled to access a preschool program over 4 terms the year before they start school.
